gent man who has made a scientific study of his particular work. He must have at his fingertips not only a knowledge of routine police work but some of the intricacies of law and medicine as well. He must be of high moral character, fearless and physically able to discharge his duties faithfully.

"What, therefore, must be done to attract this type of individual to police work? Certainly the higher caliber of man cannot be won from more lucrative fields of endeavor by just the honor of being a police officer. He must be paid a wage commensurate with his duties and abilities, a wage which will enable him to support his family and self comfortably and one which will prevent domestic difficulties from hindering his efficiency as an officer.

How Do They Do It?

"It is our understanding that even though the cost of living has risen tremendously, patrolmen's wages have remained the same, approximately as they were before the war. It is quite difficult to understand just how he can support a family on this wage when one considers the facts that he must buy and maintain his uniform and its accessories which amount to about $300. Then too, there is the extra premium he must pay for life insurance due to the constant risks involved. All in all, a policeman's lot is not a very happy one in Kingston considering the wage he receives.

"The police of small communities such as Wappingers Falls and Hastings, N. Y., received much higher salaries than do our men. This does not seem to add up when one compares the responsibilities of the towns mentioned to Kingston.

"It is our firm belief that we have a fine police force and we earnestly hope that it receives the increase in salary it so richly deserves.

"Very truly yours,
"HARRY KAPLAN

School No. 5 Graduates Tendered Dinner

Members of the graduating class of School No. 5, teachers and invited guests, were tendered a dinner last week by the Mother's Club of the school at the Church of the Comforter Hall. Fifty parents of the children also were in attendance.

The guests included Miss E. Adrian Halloran, Mrs. Spencer Follette, A. J. Boyd, principal; Russell Cunningham, athletic coach in the grade schools; and the Rev. Herbert Killander who gave the blessing.

Following the dinner an entertainment was presented featuring class talent. Piano solos were given by Bill Herlihy and Marie Autorino. Jacqueline Hayman and Susan Phelan offered a dance and two songs were given by the entire class accompanied by Miss Halloran at the piano.

A piano selection was presented by Mrs. Henry Singer, secretary of the Mother's Club who also accompanied Ray Gadd who danced. A vocal solo by Miss Dorothea Groves, grade supervisor of music, also featured the entertainment part of the program.

The dinner was planned under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Anderson, president of the Mother's Club and Mrs. William Lifer, chairman of the banquet committee. Mrs. Kenneth Haines was in charge of decorations.

Moore Asks Unity

his department, at the request of the mayors conference, has initiated a study of the legal-fiscal relationship between school districts and municipalities, and is now accumulating preliminary information preparatory to an expected conference in September.

Moore, mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for governor in 1950, noted widespread county opposition to enactment of permissive taxes approved by the 1947 Legislature to meet increased education costs.

It was his first public discussion of the question since his comment on a Hobart College Panel at Geneva June 7, that "something new will have to be done" to finance the costs.

Discussing the program last night, he said:

"The Legislature granted local taxing powers to counties to assist the school district in financing the increased cost of teachers' salaries, new school buildings and other costs.

"Obviously, such increased costs cannot be financed out of local non-property taxes if the boards of supervisors, for any reason, fail to levy such taxes.

'New Approval' Needed

"I repeat what I said in Geneva—all this demonstrates the need for a new approach if local non-property taxes are to be used generally throughout the state to finance the increased cost of education. We all have obligation to join with the administration in developing such a new approach.

"Certainly your efforts to obtain local taxing powers should not be discouraged because of differences of mechanism.

He referred to a mayors' conference bill which was stonewalled by the Legislature for the administration measure which permits counties to make special levies including a sales tax, for education and only cities of over 100,000 for general purposes.

The mayors' bill would have given municipalities authority to

King Circus Offers Variety of Features At Walker's Field

Tonight's Performance Is Scheduled for 8:15; Crowd Expected to Jam Tent

It's circus day at Walker's Field on the Plank road, across the Washington avenue viaduct, where King Brothers raised their big top skyward this morning in preparation for performances this afternoon and tonight, featuring all the great attractions of spangeland—daring aerialists, acrobats, trained horses, elephants, wild animals and an army of funny clowns to please the children.

Today's matinee drew a large attendance at 2 p. m., and when tonight's colorful spectacle starts around the hippodrome track at 8:15, the great tent is expected to be packed to capacity with thousands of circus lovers from all sections of Ulster and surrounding counties. Doors open at 7 p. m.

"It'll be a straw house for the main show tonight," was the commentary of Floyd King, one of the owners, as he chatted with a reporter concerning prospects for heavy business in Kingston.

"When I called on townfolk yesterday, everybody seemed to be talking about the circus," he said. "Our ads in The Freeman surely attracted a lot of attention, and we have all the features to offer as advertised."

Early throngs today viewed with awe the long line of side show banners. Pictured by word and brush were the wonders on the inside. Small boys eyed the paintings with awe and wonder. A steam calliope played the "Man on the Flying Trapeze," a satyr skinned musician in an Arabian garb played a flageolet. Frequently as an evidence of good faith one of the side show curiosities was brought to the front for a moment's scrutiny. Nothing that makes an old fashioned circus day complete was missing from the atmosphere.

This is the 28th year of the King Bros. Circus. The big show has grown and prospered from a beginning when the circus was transported on two small railroads until today it is one of the major circuses.

There are in the neighborhood of 600 employees with the circus. Performers number nearly 150 and have been recruited from half a dozen foreign countries. Among the great stars is the Christiani family of seven amazing acrobats; the DeRizkie troupe of eight equilibrists, newly imported from Europe; the McIntosh trio, dancers on a lofty wire; the Guice troupe, daring and intrepid aerialists; the Christine Sisters, baroque riders; the Powell family of high wire artists; Francine, the petite and charming queen of the flying trapeze; and the Potter family, sensational European equilibrists. A congress of clowns headed by Bozo Ward and Eddie Hodgini promise to uncork the latest in the way of pranks and buffonery.

A concert of popular music by Prof. Hinkley and his military band will precede the night performance, on account of its length, it commences promptly at 8:15 p. m.

Dying More Expensive

Increased cost of timber for coffins, of nickel fittings and caskets for shrouds, and higher rates for motor hearses have combined to make the cost of dying higher in Durban, South Africa. Before the war, the average funeral for a European cost $80 to $100. Now it costs from $100 to $200. Undertakers who used to hire "caskets" pull bearers now employ their own permanent staffs, who earn about $120 a month.

Hard Sauce Makes Blackberry Roll a Treat

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Do you like blackberry roll—served warm with hard sauce, or vanilla ice cream. It makes a wonderful Sunday dessert.

Blackberry Roll
(Serves 4-6)

One cup sifted flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons shortening, about 2 to 4 tablespoons hot water, 2 cups fresh blackberries (or blueberries or 1 1/2 cups canned, drained berries), 3/4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons butter.

Mix flour, baking powder and salt together, cut in shortening and add enough ice water to make a stiff dough. Put in the refrigerator for a few minutes. Clean the berries. Roll dough thin on a floured board in an oblong shape about 9 inches by 12 inches. Spread berries over dough. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup sugar, dot with butter and roll lengthwise, or the 9-inch sides toward each other, as a jelly roll. Place in a well-greased 9-quart utility dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 minutes. Baste with mixture of 1/4 cup sugar and 1 tablespoon of melted butter and continue baking 20 minutes longer. Lots of people like bran muffins for breakfast Sunday.

Molasses Bran Muffins

Two cups all-bran, 2/3 cup molasses, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg (beaten), 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 cup raisins.

Combine all-bran, molasses and milk and allow to soak for 15 minutes. Add egg. Sift dry ingredients together and stir in bran mixture. Add raisins, mix thoroughly. Fill greased muffin pan 2/3 full and bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 20 minutes.

SUNDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced oranges and bananas, crisp bacon, molasses bran muffins, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, roast chicken, stuffing, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes, garden peas, corn on cob, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, radishes and celery, blackberry roll, hard sauce or vanilla ice cream, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Sliced chicken and ham, vegetable salad, hot biscuits, butter or fortified margarine, raspberries, cream, chocolate cake, lead tea, milk.

Correspondents in Warsaw say that most Polish political leaders are hard to reach, but Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, peasant party leader, former premier of the Polish Government in London, likes foreigners. He now keeps open house at his flat, in a block reserved for cabinet officers. Like other official buildings in the Polish capital, this block of flats has an armed guard at the door. But every foreign news man comes to see Mikolajczyk, so when the guard hears a foreign accent he just makes a pass to Flat No. 19. Einstein "Explained" "A competent generalization of Einstein's theory of relativity" is offered by Dr. Erwin Schroedinger, Austrian who escaped Nazis in 1939. Now in Dublin, he says his solution is "the keystone of the affine field theory" and as incomprehensible to the layman as the original Einstein theory, but it explains to scientists why there is a magnetic field around a rotating mass such as the earth. He hopes it will lead to new dis-

Shotwells Hosts At First Library Afternoon June 28

Woodstock, June 20—Henry Morton Robinson will be the guest speaker when the Woodstock Library opens the season for Library Afternoons at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 28, in the home of Dr. and Mrs. James T. Shotwell, Woodstock. Mr. Robinson's subject will be, "Tendencies in Modern Fiction."

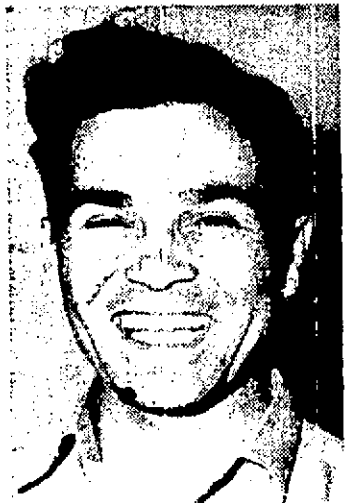

The Library Afternoon series has become increasingly popular and is but one of the many advantages enjoyed by members of the Woodstock Library.

This year the Library celebrates its Twentieth Anniversary and a great deal will be heard about it when committees and plans are formulated for the annual Library Fair. There will be a meeting in the near future to announce committee chairman.

Mrs. Alice Putnam Thompson, librarian, has been associated with the Woodstock Library from the very beginning, in 1927. At that time and for several years, Miss Edith MacComb was the Librarian. During this period, Mrs. Thompson was called the winter librarian. Following Miss MacComb's resignation about 15 years ago, however, Mrs. Thompson was appointed full time librarian.

Members of the Library have depended on Mrs. Thompson's ready assistance in various phases of research work, and frequently refer to her invaluable and untiring efforts in securing information which cannot always be had at the library. Even the youngsters in the community believe Mrs. Thompson and the library to be synonymous as indicated by one very small tot who refers to her as the "Lolliberry Lady." Another Woodstock youngster who was taken to the library in Chicago refused to believe it was a library, because Mrs. Thompson wasn't there.

Provenzano Solves His Problem With Champ's Initiative

THOMAS PROVENZANO

Woodstock, June 20—Thomas Provenzano, (Tommy Zano to the boxing world), is one G.I. who solved his own rehabilitation problem.

The former welterweight contender for the world's championship has a flourishing business, "Tommy's Window and Floor Service."

Having abandoned his professional boxing career before Uncle Sam accepted him as a volunteer in the army, Tommy had to think of another field for a living after his discharge.

This overseas veteran decided that being the housewife's helper was the most promising enterprise for a good livelihood, with less a chance for competition from other G.I.'s who had business aspirations.

"Most of the boys were fed up on doing their own housekeeping in the service," he smiled, "but I knew I could sweat it out as a steady diet as long as it meant a nice profit."

One Busy Man

The former Glasco boy was right. For more than a year he has been busy with window cleaning, floor cleaning and waxing—bugaboos to housewives—and now he has three assistants, all vets.

These fellows not only perform the chores mentioned but will take down storm windows, put up screens, clean and repair them, open and close seasonal houses, give vacuum service and sand floors.

As soon as Tommy finds space, he contemplates a storage business.

Hungry folk like the service, too, and the ex-prizefighter foresees a wide expansion for his business.

Although Tommy's youthful ambition to be a physical director seems shattered, he isn't dissatisfied. After all, as long as his "trap and broom" business is growing he'll do all right, maybe better than the nation's underpaid instructors.

Helped Support Family

Prospects of a physical career faded when he was forced to quit Saugerties High School in his sophomore year to help support the family of his sick father. He had his mother and seven to look after.

However, Tommy had his fling for a while as physical director, taking charge of a recreational program in Europe to keep soldiers entertained.

He trained boxers from his own regiment, and others from nearby army units, who put on some of the best boxing shows on the European continent. The former Kingston amateur, who was a municipal auditorium favorite when Mayor C. J. Heiselman's industrial committee promoted the ring sport, began to feel like Mike Jacobs when his fistful attractions drew houses of more than 4,000.

Nine of his 10 fights won bouts in an elaborate prize tournament.

Fought for Jacobs

Tommy did his share of boxing for Mike Jacobs, too, when he was making his bid for the welterweight crown. Some of his 75 pro bouts were fought in Madison Square Garden. He won 60 of them. Bitter hands forced him out of the sport on recommendation of his physician, and there with went his championship hopes.

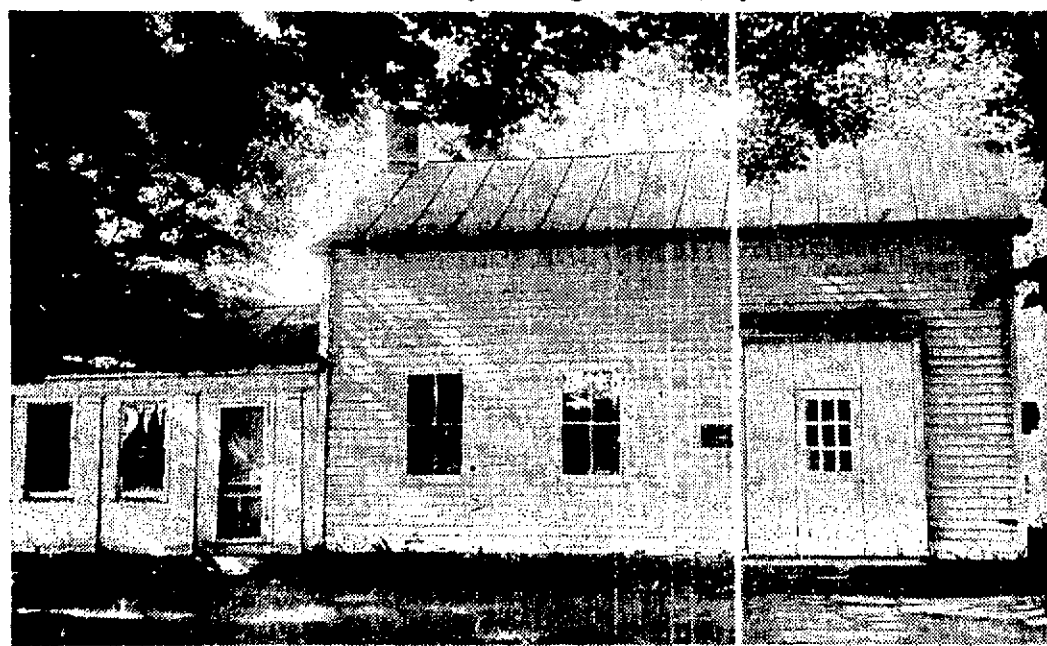

Still at his old fighting weight, Tommy is interested in athletics and hopes he'll be good enough to play with the baseball team of Woodstock Post, American Legion. He hasn't forgotten about boxing altogether. Twice a week from now on he intends to drive in to the Kingston Y.M.C.A. to supervise the training of Joe Ausanio, amateur middleweight, who competes on B'nai B'rith cards.

Sees Prospects in Ausanio

Ausanio's sorrowful plight in his last bout, after he had won by a couple of knockouts in previous matches, prompted the busy Woodstocker to take him under his wing. "Joe is a good puncher, strong and young enough to have a bright career in boxing," remarked Tommy. "But he needs advice on conditioning. The poor kid went as limp as a wet mop in that last scrap. He wasn't in good shape. Like most amateurs, he can stand a lot of coaching as far as boxing goes, too."

"I'll help any youngster who shows an interest in the sport," Tommy said. "Some day one of the boys from this section will become championship material. I'd like to be the one to find him."

Was Construction Foreman

Prior to joining the army, Provenzano was a construction foreman on a U. S. Army airfield in Bermuda. After his three months of basic training, and a period spent with the air force in England, he joined the 38th Engineers in the spring of 1944 and was with that military contingent when it landed in Normandy on D-Day plus 2.

Working as a crane operator in ammunition dumps on the beaches of Normandy, Tommy was injured. It was after this that he was assigned to special services and got the chance to work up his big continental boxing shows.

Fought in C. C. Camps

The boy who campaigned in the ring as Tommy Zano got his first real introduction to boxing gloves during 18 months in C. C. Camp, where outdoor life and rugged work strengthened his body for the ring career that helped him make a nice living until his hands went bad. Zano was a hard puncher, and towards the end he suffered injuries that kept him out of the ring for extended recuperation periods between bouts. Although his work keeps him indoors, he insists on getting fresh air exercise in his garden which he planted nights by the rays of his automobile headlights.

There's always a way for an enterprising fellow to get ahead, he said with that broad smile that has won him friends galore wherever he lived.

School Plans Given To Glenford Folk

Woodstock, June 20—A representative group of proponents for the one-town school centralization in Woodstock attended the special school meeting held in Glenford Wednesday evening to discuss the advantages of one-town centralization versus the three-town plan. This group included John Egan, Warren Hully, Sam Wilson, Clark Neher and Birge Simmons.

The three-town centralization proponents were represented by District Superintendent of Schools Reginald Bennett, James Simpson of Phenicia and Reginald Avery of Shandaken. Glenford is unusual in that a part of it is in the township of Hurley, while another part is in the township of Woodstock. The question of Glenford's being included in either the three-town or the one-town plans has not been seriously considered until this time. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the residents and taxpayers with both sides of the picture.

While no decision was arrived at during the meeting, a committee was appointed to review the facts presented and to make a report at a meeting in the near future.

P.C.A. To Meet

Woodstock, June 20—A meeting of all Ulster county members of Progressive Citizens of America will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Anita Phillips, Plochman's Lane, Woodstock, for the purpose of electing permanent officers for the Ulster county chapter and planning of summer activities.

150 Attend Friends Of France Meeting

Woodstock, June 20—A sincere tribute was given the French people on Wednesday evening when more than 150 prominent persons in Woodstock met at Miss Wardwell's studio to learn how they might best help to rebuild the age of food and clothing a month; nevertheless, they realize there are many who would like to share in this fine work but cannot make such commitments. Therefore, Miss Henderson and Miss Smith will be very glad to have any donations of clothing and food, which they will pack and send. The clothes should be mended and cleaned, ready for shipment. Cash donations for purchasing vitamins and food will also be appreciated. The foods which are of vital importance at this time are canned butter, canned bacon, rice, sugar, flour, chocolate, coconut and powdered coffee.

Following the meeting, a large number of those present volunteered to adopt one of the students.

Anyone desiring information about this project may get in touch by letter or phone, with Mrs. Norman V. Boyd, Miss Anita Smith or Miss Alice Henderson, all of Woodstock.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, June 20—The annual flower-mission day program was observed by the New Paltz W. C. T. U. at a meeting held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Arthur Ingraham. Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck, president, presided. Mrs. E. Bond Brown led the devotions and Mrs. Howard Van Keuren, local flower mission director, presented the program. The following readings were given by members: The Life of Jennie Cassidy, Mrs. Webb Kniffen; Frances E. Willard's Love for Flowers and Folks, Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck; A Rose Behind the Bars, Mrs. E. Bond Brown and In Memory Lane, Mrs. Leola Palmer. Hymns were sung after the program. A short business session took place with department directors presenting reports. A letter of thanks was read from the Kingston Hospital for scrapbooks presented by the Union. Others answering to roll call beside the above mentioned were Mrs. Albert Wright, Mrs. E. Van Vleet, Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Anna Decker, Miss Elizabeth Roosa and Miss Emma Roosa. Cards were signed and sent to shut-ins as were flowers and potted plants. After the closing hymn and prayer, Mrs. Van Keuren and Mrs. Ingraham served refreshments. Mrs. Albert Wright extended the invitation to have the July meeting at her home.

Mrs. Lanetta E. DuBois of New York will spend the summer in New Paltz so that she can be near her sister, Mrs. Jacob Deyo who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Curry called on their niece, Mrs. Albert Wright, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eckert and Mr. and Mrs. Eber Palmer, Jr., were in Poughkeepsie Monday for dinner. They later attended the movies in honor of the 13th anniversary of Mrs. Palmer.

Dr. and Mrs. Stephen George

To Conduct Woodstock Route

Paul Van Wagenen, son of Woodstock School Principal and Mrs. Walter S. Van Wagenen will begin Monday, June 23, to deliver papers to householders in Woodstock. This new service will be in addition to over-counter sales at Riley Brothers, village center, and is the result of popular demand for THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN. Paul is 14 and next year will be a sophomore at Kingston High School. At the recent district Court of Honor of the Boy Scouts he was awarded a Life Scout badge, Scouting's highest award. He becomes Woodstock's first daily newsboy in the township's long history and takes up the trail many successful men have followed throughout the nation. Where are you going from here, Paul? . . . A call to his home, Woodstock 306, will insure delivery of The Freeman at your house, if you live in the village and where Paul can reach you. (Freeman Photo)

Jones and Mrs. Frank Wardell of Arlington, Mass., were recent week-end guests at the home of Mrs. George H. Carpenter, Brown Gables, Clintondale.

Miss Ethel Addis has returned from spending a few days with relatives in Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Frank Slack led a discussion on world trade at a meeting of the New Paltz League of Women Voters held at the high school Monday night. It was pointed out that the world bank cannot get started because of the chaos in every part of Europe. Other discussions took place of the meaning of the following terms: tariff, cartel and soft currency. Mrs. Donald Allen, committee chairman, announced that work has begun on a new publication which will be issued to the public in October. The title is "Know Your Town—New Paltz," a handbook for citizens. The nominating committee for the coming election was announced as follows: Miss Gertrude Strobel, chairman; Mrs. Walter F. Rost and Mrs. Arthur Jorgenson. The next meeting of the group will be held Monday, September 8.

LANDS SALES!
WITHOUT ADVERTISING,
WHERE WOULD WE BE!

Advertising is the Spark Plug of Business,
And Good Business is What Makes Good, Steady Work!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this:

Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good values. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

The man was suffering from a bronchial attack, and as a result of it he was unable to speak above a whisper. The illness was slight, but painful, and he decided to call at the residence of the doctor who had just moved in town.

The patient appeared one evening at the doctor's front door, rang the bell, and after a short wait stood facing the doctor's young and pretty wife.

"Is the doctor at home?"

"No, come right on in."

"Last week a grain of sand got into my wife's eye and she had to go to a doctor. It cost me three dollars."

"That's nothing. Last week a fur coat got into my wife's eye and it cost me three hundred."

Husband (shouting upstairs to wife)—For the last time, Mary, are you coming?

Wife—Haven't I been telling you for the last hour that I'll be down in a minute!

A guest at a New York banquet took pains to make himself agreeable to a Chinaman sitting next to him.

Somewhat at a loss for small talk he ventured, after the first course, to inquire, "Likee soupce?"

There was no reply except a genial beam. After the next course he followed up his first opening with "Likee fishes?" This evoked a still more genial beam.

Later in the evening the visitor from the Far East responded to a toast in perfect English.

On returning his seat he asked his discomfited neighbor, "Likee speechee?"

He—One night when you were away I heard a burglar. You should have seen me going downstairs three steps at a time.

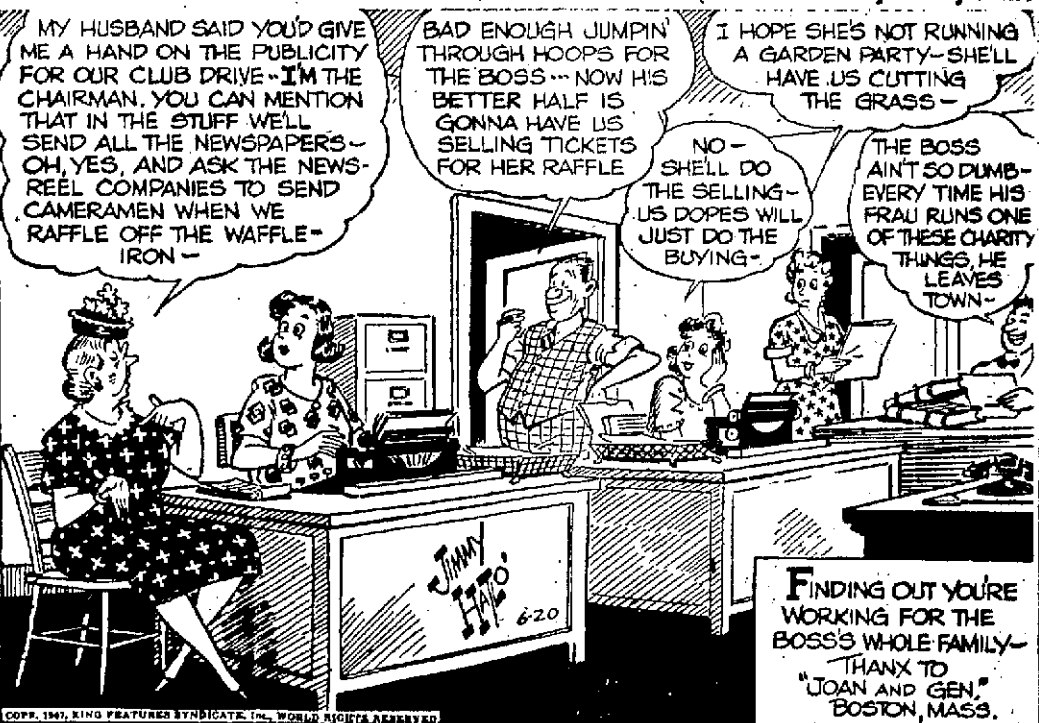

Wife—Where was he—on the roof?

The witness was undergoing a cross-examination. The lawyer had badgered him unmercifully, and finally said with a mixture of solemnity and fierceness, "Can you look me in the eye and repeat that?"

The witness looked at him a moment and asked quietly, "Which eye?"

Island Offers Peace

Five meteorologists stationed on Campbell Island, off New Zealand's south coast, live lonely lives in that bleak, remote outpost. They get supplies twice a year and are relieved after 12 months. The mountainous island is frequented by seabirds, seals and sealions, but quarters provided are comfortable and the men devote most of their time to study. As one of them said in Auckland recently: "The world is not such a happy place today that 12 months out of it would be greatly missed."

The armed forces received nutritious yeast to peanut butter, which concealed its taste.

Duplex for Rent—But for Robins Only

"Roomy duplex to let, southern exposure, nice view, don't mind children." Above Elaine Boyles, of Cleveland, Ohio, inspects the nest two robin couples built together a few weeks ago above the door to her home. The youngsters of the vacated suite grew up and flew away with Mom and Pop. And when those three blue eggs in the other nest hatch soon, there may be another vacancy.

ROSENDALE

Rosendale, June 20—Mr. and Mrs. John Ruska, Jr., entertained with a garden party in honor of their daughter, Sandra Ann, who was christened Sunday afternoon at St. Peter's Church. The tables were decorated in pink and white baby tablecloths and pink and white peonies. A large cake with decorations of pink and white with the child's initials occupied the center of the table. Refreshments were served. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Ruska, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. Kreitz and son of New Jersey, William Quilter, Miss Phyllis Quilter, Mr. and Mrs. Miller of Newburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bull, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. S. Schreih of Lawrenceville, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lo Bello, Jr., and daughters of Rosendale, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Diebold and sons of Cotteville, and Mrs. Tillie Burmeir of Maple Hill. Many beautiful gifts were received. The Service Guild met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Klein with 17 members in attendance. An interesting meeting and social hour was enjoyed. The members have planned a hot dog roast for Saturday, July 12 on the lawn of Mrs. Mae Kimmer. It will start at 5 o'clock. The public is invited.

AN USHER OFFERS HIS RIGHT ARM

The following objection to the established custom of the usher offering his right arm to women guests at a wedding is one which has been expressed by others before: "Is there any reason why it is not equally correct for the bride's mother to be taken up on the left arm of the usher, so that she would be on the side of the pew she enters? The same thing applies in reverse after the ceremony—the bride's mother going on the right arm of the usher and the groom's on the left." The ushers say that this is simpler and more graceful. Also, in our church the outer aisles are rather narrow, which means that it would be easier on one side for an usher to offer his right arm and on the other his left. Will you decide how it may be done?

I have to answer as before that the right arm is proper and if the maneuver is done properly, it should not be ungraceful. When seating the bride's mother, for example, he steps short of the pews, turns with her still on his arm, which gracefully leads her into the pew. There is so much pride against the left arm that the principal guests—especially the mothers. They certainly may adapt the rule to a situation when taking guests up the narrow side aisles—if they find serious objection to doing otherwise—even though I cannot imagine why this should be so.

When the Whole Town Is Welcomed

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is coming home from a big city where she has worked for 10 years, to be married in her girlhood church. This small town and everyone is interested in her career and now in her marriage. How can everyone be invited? We can't possibly send invitations to each one. Moreover, the risk of omitting certain ones would be too great.

Answer: Print a general invitation in your local paper, inviting every friend and neighbor to come to the church. Then you personally can invite your few most intimate friends, in addition to your families to the house. In a small community it is quite possible to do this because people will see such a notice. In large metropolitan papers it would not be practical.

Mrs. Post's booklet No. 503, "The Etiquette of Service," will be very helpful whether you are serving a buffet dinner, lunch or a formal dinner. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her in care of Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Jewel Schumacker, Daughter Of Former Residents, Wed

Miss Jewel Schumacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schumacker of 87 Lincoln street, Jersey City, N. J., became the bride of Alexander Fiedler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fiedler of Brooklyn June 1. The bride's family is formerly of this city.

The marriage was performed with a double ring ceremony in the Methodist Church at Bowers street, Jersey City, by the Rev. George Tague. Mr. Schumacker escorted his daughter. She wore a white velvety marquisette gown with long train; an illusion veil fastened to a tiara of seed pearls and carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. Alberta Irins, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a pale pink marquisette gown and carried American beauty roses and blue delphinium.

Richard Hootzler was best man. Ushers were Howard Irins, brother-in-law of the bride; and Edward Kraft, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception was held for 60 guests at Lateano's in North Bergen. The couple left for a wedding trip to Nantucket. Upon their return they will make their home in Brooklyn.

Home Accidents Met
By Simple First Aid

"If I only knew what to do!" How many times have you said that while waiting for the doctor to arrive? The simplest accident can throw you in a panic if you're caught unprepared. Learn simple nursing technique and you can handle many emergencies with confidence.

Suppose your youngster runs a rusty nail into his hand. There's the ever-present danger of infection and if the nail has been in contact with the ground, there's the added danger of lockjaw. What to do until the doctor comes? First, cleanse the wound thoroughly with soap and water, and pour in peroxide to dig out any particles of rust and dirt. Then soak the hand in a hot, strong epsom salts solution. The doctor will carry on from there.

What to do in other emergencies, how to nurse contagious diseases, how to take care of a bed patient—all explained in our Ready Service booklet No. 81. Also covers care during pregnancy, care of the new baby and the post-operative patient. Gives remedies, recipes.

Graduated With Honor; President of Class

DAVID DONALD HICKS

David Donald Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Hicks of 87 Clifton avenue, was graduated with honors from New England Conservatory of Music at Boston Monday. He was president of the graduating class and arranged the music which he later directed for the class day show.

Aside from his school activities, he has found time to do professional work in arranging for radio programs and has completed 72 of a series of 78 one quarter hour episodes for Kasper-Gordon Inc. In these transcribed programs, Gene Jones is the star assisted by the Girl Friends with Mr. Hicks at the piano and Hal Freede at the Hammond organ.

In a recent edition of the Conservatory paper, "The Melodic Line," a biography of Mr. Hicks was printed in which he was named one of the most outstanding members of the senior class. He prepared for college at Kingston High School and began his study of piano in 1932 with Miss Lina Schmidt, 211 Washington avenue, a former student of the conservatory. He entered New England Conservatory in 1940 in the Public School Music degree course, continuing his study of piano with Howard Goding. Before entering the army as an aviation cadet in 1942 he was treasurer of the underclass and president of Kappa Gamma Psi. He served as lieutenant in the Air Corps and flew 30 combat missions with the 13th Air Force in Italy. In September 1945 he returned to school and has held offices in Kappa Gamma Psi, Student Council, O.C.F. and the Junior Class. He is studying flute and plans to do post graduate work. His wife is the former Miss Vera Mather. They have a son, Michael Hicks.

Dodgers Trounce Nyack 'Rocks' in Doubleheader, 4-2 and 6-4

Braun and Gilbert Notch Wins; Williams' Homer Cinches First

Ken Braun and Alton Gilbert turned in a pair of well-pitched games as the Kingston Dodgers continued to roll over North Atlantic League opposition by sweeping a doubleheader in Nyack last night.

The scores were 4-2 and 6-4.

The Dodger victories coupled with Carbondale's defeat sent the Kingston lead soaring to seven and a half lengths, with an 8-game margin in the loss column.

Wiley Williams' circuit clout with a man on base in the eighth inning (extra inning) broke up the opener which was scheduled for seven innings.

Gilbert set down the hard hitting Rocklands with five hits in the opener, while the Dodgers raked Barletta for 10. Walt Kowalski found the range for a triple and two singles. Williams had a single in addition to his homer and Tom Corrigan poled two singles. Kingston tied the score at 2-2 in the sixth and set the stage for Williams' round tripper with Kowalski on base in the eighth. Daniels homered for the Dodgers.

Braun Wins Nightcap

Braun scattered eight hits effectively in the nightcap and throttled a ninth inning threat by the home club. "Knobby" Rosa led a 13-hit assault on Orleans with three singles. Kingston failed to make an extra base blow among thirteen. Brian Kerr, Corrigan and Braun each hit safely twice. Corrigan connected for four hits in six trips to the plate.

Other Results

While Joe Seber, Stroudsburg's ace, was turning in a no-hit game against Mahanoy City, the second-place Carbondale club suffered a 16-0 shellacking at the hands of the Nazareth Tigers.

The last place Bloomingdale club won both ends of a doubleheader from Peekskill, 4-3 and 10-7 and Manager Al Gardella must be making good use of the four lineout towels presented him here on Booster Night.

The Dodgers conclude the series against Nyack tonight and return to Kingston for a Saturday night game against Nazareth. A doubleheader starting at 2:05 p. m. is scheduled for Sunday.

Headed for North Atlantic League Pennant

BOOSTER NIGHT ECHOES: They came and they saw . . . and now it's squarely up to the baseball public of Kingston a bid to decide whether or not they will continue to support the Dodgers in the manner in which they deserve. . . . The 4,000 fans who attended "Merchants Booster Night" saw a nice ball club in action. . . . They saw youthful speed, determination, aggressiveness, a hustling aggregation that appears pennant bound. . . . We were happy to see many of the old "regulars" present for the first time since the season opened. . . . Municipal Stadium was tense with excitement and color and the contest was staged under pre-war conditions, when Kingston's rating as a baseball town was never questioned.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM

Baal Brith boxing officials are reported reading a contract for Big Rudy Antonetz, who scored a quick kyo over Joe DeTola, Peekskill's equally large left fielder. . . . We predicted a long time ago that sooner or later Ken Braun's needling would incite a brawl. . . . The 14 2/5 seconds in which Joe DeTola and Jerry Orleman were clucked around the bases is terrific time. . . . Lukasik's home run earned him a fountain pen offered by Warren Smith, City League president, and $5 in cash awarded by C. A. Schecker, a resident of the Panama Canal Zone who was a spectator. . . . Schecker is secretary-treasurer of the Babcock club of the Canal Zone League. . . . Al Gardella, Peekskill skipper, was presented with a couple of crying towels before the game started. . . . Later developments proved that boxing gloves would have been more appropriate.

THE NINETEENTH HOLE

The hole-in-one or so-called "dream shot" in golf is nothing new in Kingston. . . . The ace fired by Al Flanagan last Sunday was the 19th registered by a local golfer, according to best available information. . . . Twaalfskill swingers have accounted for 10, Wilwyck 8 and three women have gone all the way from the tee to the cup. . . . Mrs. Matthew Habsbrink, of Stone Ridge, and Mrs. Ernest Le Fevre shot their ace on local courses, while Mrs. Edw. O'Reilly achieved the rare feat at the Dutchess Country Club in Poughkeepsie.

Judge John M. Cashin and Lou Hymes, of Twaalfskill are credited with a pair of aces. . . . Other holes-in-one dropped at Alex Gerlach's layout belong to Major Hillebrand, Dr. S. T. Levitas, Jack McGee, Jim Dwyer, Matt Herzog and now, Al Flanagan. . . . We were still quite naive about golf when we reported Mr. Herzog's ace was a 235-yarder. . . . In reality, it was shot from the lower tee at Twaalfskill's No. 3. . . . But at the time it was good reading for the unknown.

Among the eight linksmen with a hole-in-one at Wilwyck are: Roger Smith, Roy Vogt, Frank Shimek, one-time pro there, Ray Le Fevre, J. "Watts" Bailey, Eddie Burnett, Charlie Roth and Frank Thompson, Sr. . . . The No. 2 and 8 holes at Wilwyck and the No. 2 at Twaalfskill are inviting targets for the would-be ace. . . . Why not step up and get yours.

CHIP SHOTS: Maurice Davenport's 33 at Wilwyck last Sunday consisted of seven pars and a pair of birdies. . . . He birdied No. 1 and No. 4 with a par card that read something like this: 3-3-4-2-4-5-4-3-4-33. . . . For the layout, of course, is 35. . . . When you start hitting the figures consistently on No. 3, 6, 7 and 9 on Wilwyck your golf game has arrived. . . . The annual chubbar between Wilwyck and Twaalfskill starts Sunday at Twaalfskill, with about 30 players on each side. . . . From a purely academic and gastronomic standpoint, this is the golf match of the season. . . . Since taking a tip from Carl Insta and exploiting the tremendous potentialities of the No. 9 hole, our game has improved several strokes. . . . We saw Carl miss angle-2 by six inches on Wilwyck's No. 1 this week. . . . Local fans will get their first glimpse of Alex Gerlach, Twaalfskill pro, in action this week-end.

TWENTY YEARS AGO: Fred Stoudt and Hank Cragan, of Kingston, pitching for Gardinertown in the Newburgh Twilight League, put on a show for Hill City fans in racking up a shutout. . . . Stoudt fanned 8 in 5 innings and Cragan whiffed six in two frames. . . . The Colonials defeated Scotia, 10-4, with Culliton and Robins as the winning battery. . . . Looser cracked a homer for locals. . . . Kingston All Stars drubbed Poughkeepsie Beckwiths, 13-2. . . . Hank Cragan yielded 9 hits, fanned 8, collected 3 hits. . . . Jimmy Merritt 3 hits. . . . Walt Black a homer. . . .

ANSWER TO STICKLER: No man scores when a batter hits a fair ball over the fence with the bases loaded in a woman's game.

Clinton Tossers To Play Walden In Night Game

The Governor Clinton Market nine will play its third road game of the season tonight against the powerful Walden club under the lights at Beasley Field, Walden. Art Barnes and George Zedany will form the Kingston battery. The Kingston lineup includes "Daisy" Schatzel, Chappie Van Derzee, Bill Tierney, Andy Celucci, Jimmy Ashdown, Tommy Maines and "Link" Crosby. A bus will leave the central post office at 6:15. There are a few seats available for any fans who would like to make the trip.

Dodgers Announce Baseball Tryout School in City

The Brooklyn Dodger organization, highly pleased with the success of the 1946 tryouts, will sponsor a baseball school for young players between the ages of 17 and 22 at municipal stadium on June 26-27-28. Business Manager Paul Taylor announced today.

The daily sessions will start at 9:45 a. m. and all eligible players in the area are invited to attend. Promising athletes who indicate an interest in a professional baseball career will be offered an opportunity to join the Brooklyn organization.

The school will be headed by A. B. "Turk" Karim, chief metropolitan scout of the Dodgers. Other instructors will be "Spike" Garnish, western New York state and Canadian scout of the Dodgers; Ronald Burkman, varsity baseball coach at St. Lawrence University, and John Carey, former minor league manager, now scouting the eastern states for the Dodgers.

Players who attend the school should bring their own shoes, gloves and uniforms. All other equipment will be furnished. George "Sugar" Scherger, manager of the Kingston Dodgers, will be available for instructions at the school. Paul Taylor, business manager, also will assist in the program.

Poconos' Lefty Hurl's No-Hitter

Joe Seber, the Stroudsburg Poconos' sensational left hander, last night turned in the season's first no-hit, no-run game in the North Atlantic League when he shut out Mahanoy City, 10-0, in the second game of a doubleheader at Mahanoy City.

The Poconos also won the first game, 6-5, handling Eddie Alex, of the Bluebirds, his first defeat after six victories.

It was only the second no-hit game in the two-year history of the Class D circuit, and it was Seber's eighth victory of the season against one defeat. He struck out eight and walked five, but did not allow a runner to pass first base.

Manager of the Kingston Dodgers, will be available for instructions at the school. Paul Taylor, business manager, also will assist in the program.

44th Poughkeepsie Regatta Is Battle Among Five Crews

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 20 (AP) — A close five-way finish shaped up today in the 44th Poughkeepsie Regatta with California, Washington, Navy, Cornell and Princeton apparently strongest in a field of 11.

Tomorrow's crew race down the Hudson—revived after a six-year war suspension—will have favorable weather by present indications although a breeze is threatening that could prove treacherous on the wide river.

If a west wind develops the advantage will be with undefeated California in No. 2 lane close to the balsanes on the west bank. The intercollegiate Rowing Association last night decided to make no change in the location of the lanes although a majority of the coaches had urged a return to the middle of the river. The stewards declined to make the shift because the course had already been drawn.

Will Use Old Lanes

This means lanes one to five will pass under the second span of the railroad bridge from the west side and lanes six to 11 under the center span. This also means California will probably be out ahead in its section of the race while out in the middle of the river the other four favorites will be battling in a group.

The other six teams in the varsity race on the strength of season records are not figured as serious contenders. They are Columbia, Syracuse, Wisconsin, M.I.T., Pennsylvania and Rutgers. The junior varsity race appears to be an open affair but four great freshmen teams stand out—Washington, Navy, Princeton and Syracuse.

Palm Beach the slacks of champions

You'll like these most practical of all summer slacks— their cool comfort, full cut, smart appearance, ability to "take it" and come out trim and fresh after every washing. The country's leading golfers prefer Palm Beach Slacks. You'll enjoy them, too.

Boulevard's-Frank's Game Ends in Protest

An old baseball bugaboo—the protested game—reared its ugly head in the City Baseball League yesterday to furnish spice to a dull, 11-11, seven-inning tie between Frank's Sport Shop and Boulevard.

Frank's led 11-9 at the end of the sixth and protested bitterly when Empire Joe Messinger ordered the game continued. Frank's claimed that since the first lights had just been turned on it was too dark to play.

The umpire's decision held and the game continued. Boulevard's led the score in their half of the event. All this did nothing more than increase the blood pressure of members of Frank's squad who formed around Empire Messinger after the ball game. No blows were struck but it is reported that verbal pummeling was continued by their absence.

Manager Frank Cohen, of the team, said he would protest the grounds that it was too dark to continue after the sixth inning. He also claimed that if it was dark enough to turn on the first lights, it was too dark to play baseball.

Wild Ball Game
The contest itself was a wild and woolly affair in the best traditions, to turn a phrase, of both clubs converted six hits into runs.

Boulevard opened with a four-run burst and went ahead 5-0 in the second. Frank's picked up four in the bottom half of the second, trailing 8-5 at the end of three. Frank's exploded with six runs in the fourth and held their advantage until Boulevard chased two runs across in the oncoming dark of the seventh.

No player on either side got more than one hit, with doubles by Sierra, Jackson and Bill Glaser being only extra base knocks.

Owen Ten Broeck, gangling right hander, struck out nine men in four innings. Al Gruner, right hander, pitched six in a brief stay.

Red Sox and Cardinal Series No Longer Regarded as Joke

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Baseball's dizzy pennant races are reverting to form as the clubs approach the one-third mark with another Boston Red Sox-St. Louis Cardinals World Series a distinct possibility.

Mention of such a pairing would have prompted loud hoots and a hurry-up call for the booby wagon two weeks ago. Now the Red Sox are in first place with an unbroken eight-game winning streak and the Cards have surged from last to fifth, only 4 1/2 games out of first, by winning their last seven straight.

The Red Sox moved into the American League lead yesterday, while enjoying an open date, on the strength of Chicago's 6-4 victory over the New York Yankees. Boston's Braves became the new National League pace setter, while watching the rain wash out their schedule game in Cincinnati, because New York fell before Pittsburgh, 12-2, but while the Braves, Dodgers, Giants and Cubs have been shuttling in and out of first place, all hands have been conscious of the Cards' rush toward the top.

Mort Cooper Falls
Mort Cooper failed in spectacular fashion, being clubbed for eight hits in 2 2/3 innings of his Giants' debut. Three other New York hurlers were treated roughly and the Giants suffered another serious blow in a serious injury to lefty Monty Kennedy. The young southpaw was hit in the head by a line drive off the bat of Walker Cooper in batting practice. He suffered a linear fracture of the skull and will be out at least three weeks.

A's Continue Streak
Those amazing Philadelphia A's knocked over Detroit, their fifth straight loss, 8-4, and advanced to within 2 1/2 games of the lead. Washington eked out a 3-2 margin over Cleveland for Early Wynn's eighth victory. Tom Ferrick repulsed a late Tribe threat when Wynn weakened in the ninth. Bryan Stephens whose first big league win came at the Senators' expense May 15, went down with his fourth straight loss.

Local Linkmen Set for Annual Series Sunday

The annual Twaalfskill-Wiltwyck inter-club series starts Sunday at Twaalfskill at 9 o'clock, with approximately 80 golfers expected to compete.

A social will follow the match and a handicap sweepstakes will be held in conjunction with the regular matches.

The highlight of the day will be the first appearance of Alex Gerlak, "Twaalfskill Club" pro, in competition this season. Gerlak and a partner will tee off against Tommy Danaher, Wiltwyck pro, and a Wiltwyck ace.

Virtually all of the ranking players of both clubs will compete in the competition that has become one of the top events of the local golf season.

Y to Conduct Free Swim Class for Girls Next Week

A free beginner's swim class for girls will start next Wednesday, June 25, at 9:30 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. and will run for the balance of the summer months. Another class will be held Friday morning.

The regular 10 o'clock swim period every Wednesday and Friday will be held but only those who can swim will be allowed to take part.

The class for beginners is part of the annual campaign to teach girls how to swim which is similar to the boys' program.

The physical committee, and the board of directors of the "Y" have announced a new policy on swim periods for younger girls. These periods will only be held during May, June, July, August and September. During the winter the younger girls' class will be discontinued.

About 40 per cent of U. S. communities do not have building codes.

The state of Washington is as large as all of New England plus Delaware.

You May Disagree With This Bidding

By WILLIAM R. MCKINNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for N.E.A. Service

Many of you will want to sit right down and write me a letter about how bad the bidding was on today's hand. I certainly would not like to plan a hand with a void suit as three no trump—but suppose you were sitting in the East position, and your opponents did get to three no trump on the hand.

That happened to Mrs. Edwin L. Marks of Albany, N. Y., winner of the mixed-pair event in the recent Metropolitan Championships at Montreal, Can., and Mrs. Marks was confronted with an interesting point of play.

Strangely enough, several other pairs reached three no trump on the hand. The opening lead was won by declarer with the jack of clubs, a small diamond led to dummy's ace and the jack of hearts played. When East failed to cover, declarer let it ride, played the other heart from dummy and finessed the ten-spel, thus making four hearts, five diamonds and a club.

However, when declarer led the jack of hearts against Mrs. Marks, she recalled that South had bid hearts, and if he held five of them her partner, West, might have the blank king. Mrs. Marks decided that would be the only way she could lose by covering, so she covered the jack of hearts with the queen. This held the contract to three no trump as declarer could make only three heart tricks.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, June 19—The Youth Fellowship of the Methodist Church will attend the morning service in a body Sunday, and the three high school seniors in the group, Marilyn Dimsey, William Kirk and Raymond Minard, will be recognized in a special way. Raymond Minard will preside at the service, and the pastor, the Rev. H. C. Greenland, will have a sermon of special interest to young people.

The recreational committee program was approved by the Town Board at its meeting Friday night. Frank LaFolice, physical director and coach in the school, is its head and the season opens July 1. As planned, there will be twilight hard ball, swimming, tennis, basketball, skating, arts and crafts and dancing. The sum of $1,038 was appropriated for this year's recreation program. The amount, the games and sports will be held in the high school grounds and church recreational areas. The Schantz and Pratt ponds will provide swimming areas and skating. The year opening July 1 carries through to the same date next year. The cost estimated includes equipment and necessary transportation. The board accepted the newly opened Van Wagner road as a public thoroughfare. A hearing on noise nuisance will be held June 30 and action will follow where complaints have been made. The yearly salaries of inspectors of election have been raised from $32 to $40. The regularity presented were audited and ordered paid.

The closing meeting of the Study Club was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lent when members gathered for an outdoor supper. The book, "Portrait of a Pilgrim," has been completed and Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb closed the devotions used during the year on "The Sermon on the Mount." The club voted a small sum of money toward conference use if needed. The annual rummage sale will be held October 4. There is available space for storage of articles by calling Mrs. Lent.

Mrs. A. Herbert Campbell was initiated as a member of the Order of Eastern Star at the meeting last week.

Attending the executive meeting of North River Presbyterial Society in Poughkeepsie Tuesday afternoon were Mrs. Thomas Sears, Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb, Mrs. M. P. Busch, Mrs. Heston Woolsey, Mrs. Bertram Cottine, Mrs. Franklin Welker, Miss Eliza Raymond. The president, Mrs. Joseph Black, Wappingers Falls presided, and Vice President, Rathgeb, conducted the devotions. The various secretaries of departments gave reports with Miss Shepherd, formerly from board headquarters, now, Pine Plains, spoke. Money for conference use was voted upon and for the Coaching Conference in September with hopes of having Mrs. Paul Moser, Topoka, Kan., as speaker. The fall Presbyterial meeting will be held at Pine Plains, October 9, with Miss Margaret Shannon as speaker. Miss Curtis, assistant in the Presbyterial Church, Poughkeepsie, gave a closing talk on how to interest children in missions. The same group from here was joined at dinner at Smith's, when nearly 100 were served by Dr. and Mrs. Victor Salvatore, M. P. Busch, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Alexander, Mr.

SHOKAN

Shokan, June 19—Eugene Isaaksen, a regular summer visitor to Shokan for the past several years, spent the week-end at the A. Olson family's mountainside camp. Gene is a senior at the Alexander Hamilton High School in Brooklyn.

The superstructure of the Wendt & Economos garage on Route 28 is nearing completion. Side walls of cement blocks, metal window frames, and sash and heavy steel cross-bars are construction features of this modern building.

Mrs. Otto Rast is under treatment by a Kingston doctor for ear trouble.

Wild strawberries, now getting ripe in the meadows, are unusually large this season as a result of the frequent rains.

Seymour Winne, a former resident of Ashokan, was a caller in the village center Monday.

June 19, 1868, William P. Castle sold a right of way through his land to the east Esopus flats and sent through the J. Brodhead & Oswego Railroad. Consideration was $400 and the deal was promoted by Nathan W. Watson and Dewitt C. Davis. Mr. Castle, father of Worden Castle of New York, was a farmer residing along the old Shokan-Brown's Station road.

Kingsontonians here Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Orville Winchell, both of whom were born and brought up in this section.

James Allen, Spillway neighborhood farmer, has been buying stored hay from Edwin Secor and other local farmers.

Mrs. John Adsit and daughter of Long Branch, N. J., are spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adsit.

and Mrs. Charles Champlin joined the group later. Paul Moser, Topoka, owner of a retail grocery business in his city, was the speaker, and as a layman, gave a practical talk of what can be done and presented the challenge which had its beginning in the recent sessions of General Assembly at Grand Rapids, when the Presbyterial Church voted to raise $17,000 for benevolences. The moderator, W. W. Smith opened the meeting, with the Rev. Charles Moser presiding; the Rev. Howard Black, Wappingers Falls, spoke and following the speaker the Rev. Wilbur M. Franklin, Newburgh, asked for the pledge dedication of ourselves, our church, and our Presbytery.

The nominating committee, Mrs. Gordon Wilcox, Mrs. Arthur Clarke, Joseph Mikish, presented its report of officers for the newly organized P.T.A. at the meeting Thursday evening. Mrs. Peter Lordi, president; Miss Helen Lucy, vice president; Miss Virginia Hoffman, secretary; Mrs. John Batten, treasurer. These officers were installed by Mrs. Edison Dimsey, former president. The meeting was opened by Mrs. William Coy, retiring president. Announcement was made of the opening meeting September 3 with a reception for the teachers. Mrs. Lordi announced her committees for the coming year: Hospitality, Mrs. Charles Schmidt, Mrs. Benjamin Egan; program, Mrs. John F. Wadlin, Miss Shirley Sharrock, Miss Margaret Byrne; membership, Mrs. Edison Dimsey; publicity, Miss Eliza Raymond.

story of two darling little old maiden ladies who blandly go about the business of putting unfortunate creatures out of their misery. Helene Ambrose and Nan McFarland will be seen as the gentle old ladies. Morton Da Costa will assume the role of the slightly piliated brother who shares their home.

Playing the part of the young nephew and practically the only normal member of the crazy household, Stewart Long will bring to life the drama critic, who discovers his aunt's secret. Dayton Lummis, currently playing seven parts in "Dream Girl," will be seen in the role which Boris Karloff created on Broadway. Clayton Flagg will be his physician.

The cast also includes Marissa O'Brien, sweetheart of the drama critic; Ted Tiller, James Wyle, Calvin Garner, Lee Carlton, John Marlon and others.

Starting Tuesday, July 1, Mr. DaCosta will present "Dear Ruth."

'Rusty' Callow Is Kiwanis Speaker at Lunch Thursday

Praises Rowing as Fine Amateur Sport; Has Crew in Regatta at Po'keepsie

Members and guests of the Kingston Kiwanis Club, assembled at the Governor Clinton yesterday afternoon for their regular weekly luncheon meeting, were addressed by one of the nation's greats in the field of amateur sports, "Rusty" Callow, coach of the University of Pennsylvania rowing crew.

Mr. Callow came here with his rowing team to participate in the Poughkeepsie regatta, which is being held on the Hudson river tomorrow. In introducing Mr. Callow to the audience, a Kiwanis speaker remarked that the coach was favored four ways to win this regatta. Apart from his own coaching ability and well-conditioned crew, Callow will find competition from three other colleges, all of whom are coached by men tutored years back by Callow. The implication that his former students would naturally not attempt to outdo their master was well taken in a spirit of jest.

Callow started his brief talk yesterday with the age-old adage, the more you stay in a particular profession or business, the less you know about it. He adapted this to his own sphere of rowing and coaching, and added that there is always a worthwhile lesson and practical experience to be learned the longer one is affiliated with his individual work.

Tomorrow's regatta, Callow reminded, is the first to be held on the Hudson since the war started. It is also his first appearance on these waters since 1936.

Praises Hudson
Referring to the training conditions of his rowing team on a river in Philadelphia, Callow deplored the lack of available facilities for proper preparation. Actually, he said, what made him famous at Penn was the remark he uttered some years ago in reference to this river. The water there is too thick to drink, and too shallow to plow, he said, and admitted that it was good to be back on the Hudson once more, participating in a regatta which he termed one of the most colorful events in the world.

Visitors to this regatta, he said, are more often amused at seeing exciting occurrences like a shell sinking or overturning. But it's a wonderful sport and should maintain its position in amateur sports as one of the finest. After all, he humorously remarked, an oarsman is one of the few men in the world who can work while sitting down, looking back, and still make fast forward progress by plowing hard.

Callow participated in a regatta at Poughkeepsie back in 1913, when he came here from the state of Washington where he was then employed in a timber camp. He thrilled to the occasion, fulfilling a boyhood dream of one day taking part in such an event.

Major Couldn't Take It

He told how one of his crew quit the team because he refused to take orders from a coxswain. It developed that the coxswain had been a sergeant in the army during the war, and the crew member a major. The latter found it difficult to take orders from one whom he deemed inferior. When Callow reminded him that the war was over and such official status obliterated, he preferred to drop from the team. It's men like that, Callow said, who are not in the sport for the sake of sport, and the game is better off without them.

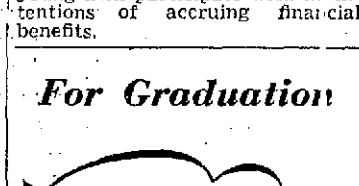

Speaking of some opposition to the sport of rowing, where men work hard and bring in no monetary gains, Callow emphasized that such criticism is unjust and unfair. If anyone takes that attitude towards rowing, he said, then the spirit of democracy upon which our nation is based is sadly lacking. That's what is wrong with our colleges and sports today, he said. Too many gamblers want to convert sincere sports into money professions, thereby ruining one of the nation's best pastimes, amateur sports.

Must Be Sincere

He stressed the requisite of courage, character and courtesy in any sport, and staunchly condemned the influx of too many men into various colleges who enter with malicious motives. If they are not sincere, he cautioned, they allow communistic principles and rabble rousing to infiltrate into schools and break down the traditions of democracy and American principles of freedom and justice for all.

Rowing, he summarized, is a great exhibition of one of the finest traditions of an old American sport in which fine, exemplary young men participate with no intentions of accruing financial benefits.
